

You know the feeling.

flow

You're having an amazing dream
where everything
in your life is just...

RIGHT.

But then the bubble pops.

You're awake, and that dream life you had
is not yours.

And suddenly,
the life you
have looks that much more

DULL.

It sounds dumb, but if
you've already been down,

having a dream where everything is good can ruin your day.

The color will return, it just might take time.

If you're patient, life will remind you just how good it can be.
